allowance to the rel employer. In the case of Govt. Employees the allowance is granted as the employees are liable to change from one dist. to another, and as they have to put up with certain inconveniences of climate &c change &c. In the case of Govt Employees, who are formally posted in a place, the men take their service with the full knowledge of the risks involved. Bonds with them as to local men. Frequent changes are not common in such employment the proposal may be voted in toto as made

4) N. is not in a position to express any opinion as to whether the grant of an allowance is necessary in the present circumstances of the case. N. is in general sympathy with the proposal to grant an allowance to Govt employees in localities where the cost of living is found to be abnormally high. In municipal towns known to be costly localities and has resolved to give an allowance. N. is not right to refuse the proposal may be supported.
